B- Attitude 3 - Blessed are the meek

Openers: What experiences of conflict have you experienced in the last week?

What did you try last week in order to start aligning your life more closely to Jesus' values – by mourning with those who mourn?

Reflection: What was your first reaction to the Sermon?

This Sermon encourages you to develop a capacity that has always been much praised but seldom practiced in society. What does it mean to be genuinely 'meek'?

How would you describe in your own words what it means for a person to be 'meek'?

Anger has been defined as 'an explosion of significance in the face of indifference'. How would you define anger yourself?

What are the dangers associated with being angry?

What are the dangers associated with not being angry?

When did Jesus get angry?

How did Jesus get angry 'without sin'?

Challenge: What are some of the things that make you sad that should make you mad?

How could you get angry without getting aggro?

Cont'd

How could you be less reactive/more proactive?

How can you practice self-restraint?

How can you practice self-control?

Reflect: – is there any change, even a very small one, you can make this week to start aligning your life more closely to Jesus' values – getting angry, but not aggressive?

Sorrow

The sorrow of the world shall eat away
At heart and soul of one who has transgressed,
And knowing no relief but more distressed
With disappointing failures of the day.
This sorrow comes from plans which went astray,
Events imposed which were far from the best.
Such irritations which then give no rest,
Unanswered, sadly lead to death's decay.
But godly sorrow, sorrow for the grief
Which drives a wedge 'twixt God and sinful man,
Provides a cleansing like no other can
Where God's forgiveness brings a soul relief
This godly sorrow which is heaven sent
Shall surely lead the sinner to repent
